The following race discussions describe the general attitudes held by each race toward the 11 base classes in the Pathfinder RPG Core Rulebook and the six new base classes introduced here in the Advanced Player's Guide. Humans tend to fit easily into every class, while other races favor some occupations much more highly than others, with a handful of classes earning the contempt and suspicion of certain races.

Half Elf: Often caught between the worlds of their progenitor races, half-elves are a race of both grace and contradiction. Their dual heritage and natural gifts often create brilliant diplomats and peacemakers, but half-elves are often susceptible to an intense and even melancholic isolation, realizing that they are never truly part of elven or human society.

The Advanced Race Guide (ARG) book has a vast amount of information. We are slowly adding races individually after reviewing them for not only balance, but also a compelling ecology that fits within our En world setting. Individual pieces of racial abilities, traits, feats or archetypes are being banned when we foresee a problem.
