Persuasion, the process by which a person's attitudes or behaviour are, without duress, influenced by communications from other people. One's attitudes and behaviour are also affected by other factors (for example, verbal threats, physical coercion, one's physiological states). Not all communication is intended to be persuasive; other purposes include informing or entertaining.

Persuasion is goal-directed; so all persuaders have goals that they seek, which is the second part in the process of persuasion.

~~The Nature of Attitudes and Persuasion~~

something persuasive. First, persuasion involves a goal and the intent to achieve that goal on the part of the message sender. Second, communication is the means to achieve that goal. Third, the message recipient must have free will (i.e., threatening physical harm if the recipient doesn't comply is usually considered force, not persuasion).
